More Info With prayers, music, sacred texts and spoken reflections, this prayer service will memorialize those who died on September 11, 2001 and offer a vision of hope in the midst of continued suffering.

The Religious Leadership Forum of Southwest Pennsylvania (Christian, Jewish and Islamic leaders) and Christian Associates of Southwest Pennsylvania are hosting this interfaith prayer service to demonstrate to their faith communities that we already have strong relationship among Christians, Jews and Muslims; and that greater understanding between these traditions can lead to mutual respect and genuine friendships for the common good of all.

Everyone is welcome to attend Memory and Hope: An Interfaith Remembrance of 9/11 on Sunday, September 11, 2011 at 5:00 p.m. at Rodef Shalom Synagogue, 4905 Fifth Ave., Pittsburgh, PA.
